Corruption from Society. He observed that digitalisation can disrupt corruption by reducing discretion, increasing transparency, and enabling accountability by dematerialising services and limiting human interactions. He further pointed out that in order to acquire most from digital services we need to sensitize and empower citizenry about the usage of digital services and decrease the role of intermediaries. He concluded his talk by highlighting that the massive awareness and promotion of IT-related initiatives, ongoing “Digital Literacy Week” as well as digital initiatives are very important for achieving a transparent and corruption free system of governance.

The program formally concluded with vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Niyaz Ahmad Khan.
